Purpose of This Guide

This Guide is made specifically for trans-spectrum and nonbinary undergraduate and graduate students at Bard College. It is also meant to be used by all members of the Bard community as a resource and a way of informing allies. The goal is to provide accurate and concise knowledge of how to manage life as a trans spectrum student at Bard. If you are unsure what it means to be transgender, on the trans spectrum, or confused about certain terminology, feel free to search independently or browse the following resources for general information.

For the purposes of this Guide, the term “trans” is used as an umbrella term for people whose gender identity and/or expression differs from the sex assigned to them at birth. This includes, but is not limited to, individuals who identify as transgender, non-binary, genderqueer, gender nonconforming, LGBTQ+, gender fluid, and questioning.

Bard College is committed to providing a safe and inclusive campus for trans students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The Bard College Trans Resource Guide provides information about resources available at the College, as well as in our community.

This Guide includes information regarding housing, name changes, location of gender-inclusive restrooms, and individuals on campus who can provide assistance with day-to-day college life. The goal of this Guide is to improve inclusiveness and accessibility for trans students, faculty, staff, and visitors to Bard College. This Guide will be updated as policies, practices, and facilities change.

This Policy applies to the entire College community and visitors for conduct that:

- Occurs on College premises;
- Occurs in the course of any College-sponsored program or activity, regardless of location (e.g., Bard-sponsored study abroad, research, or internship programs). “Program or activity” also includes computer and internet networks, digital platforms, and computer hardware or software owned, operated by, or used in the operations of the College; or
- Occurs off campus but has continuing adverse effects and/or causes substantial disruption on College premises or in any Bard program or activity.

Reporting - Assistance and Options

Reporting discrimination and harassment (including gender based misconduct) can be a stressful process.

The Office of Title IX and Non Discrimination understands this and is available to help navigate students through the process and give more details about what options are available. Students are welcome to speak with either the Title IX Coordinator or Deputy Title IX Coordinator to ask questions and gather information before making a decision on how to proceed and BEFORE any formal complaint is officially filed. Questions about whether to proceed with a formal complaint process or any informal one will be answered and information will be shared regarding support (including on and off campus resources) and potential accommodations.

Name Change Form

If your name is different from the name currently used in your legal documents, you have the option to input a Preferred First Name into the Bard system. To change your name within the College's system, you must fill out a google form accessible through the QR code or this link.

What requesting a name change through the online form will do: Your Chosen/Preferred name will be listed on class and residence hall rosters and at the post office. If you choose the options below, it will also change on your Student ID and email.

What requesting a name change through the online form will not do: This process does not constitute a legal name change. A student's legal first name must appear on legal documents, including financial aid and employment records, bursar bills, transcripts, and other legal documents.

Registrar

The Registrar's Office accommodates both legal name changes and chosen name changes. If you have legally changed your name, please see Peter Gadsby in the Registrar's Office. To request a name change within the College's system (a "chosen name change"), please use the online form located in the Name Change Section of this Guide. Pronouns can be updated in the "Personal Information" tab in Bard Self Service (<https://bardssb.bard.edu>), which will then be added to class rosters. Name changes made through Bard SSB should sync over to Bard Brightspace within the same day and should be reflected in Bard Brightspace. If a student notices that their name change hasn't been carried over into Bard Brightspace, they should: First, log out of Bard Brightspace, close the browser tab, open a new tab, and then sign back into Bard Brightspace. If their updated name still isn't reflected in Bard Brightspace, please contact us (ats@bard.edu) or the helpdesk (helpdesk@bard.edu) to assist. Very rarely, the automated sync between the two systems might get delayed. If a student sets their pronouns in Bard SSB, they can then choose to make those pronouns visible within Bard Brightspace by enabling the option to "Allow others to see my pronouns."

Chosen names will be utilized wherever possible, however some official documents require utilization of an individual's legal name.

The Chosen Name will be used for:

- College ID card (if elected)
 - There is NO fee to get a new College ID with updated name change
- Bard email address (if elected)
- Class Rosters and Residence Hall Rosters
- Post Office
- Bard College Public Directories (unless the student has asked that information be blocked)
- Communications (for example, if Bard sends mail to the student at the student's home address, it will be addressed to the chosen name unless otherwise instructed by the student)
- Diploma

Legal Name Change

While it is easy to change your preferred name within Bard College, doing so is not a legal name change. This section will assist with guiding you towards a legal name change within New York State. Please note, the process for changing your name in New York City is different from changing your name in New York State. None of the following information serves as legal advice. If you have more questions, a complicated situation, or more nuanced questions, please seek personal legal advice. If you need legal services in the Hudson Valley, Legal Services of the Hudson Valley provides free counsel for low-income individuals and families who cannot afford an attorney. Check out their website for more information.

If you would like to register a legal change of name, please print and complete the Name Change Affidavit. Click on this link or scan the QR code for the form.

The completed form must be accompanied by photocopies of the following documentation:

- A government-issued document with the new name.
- Proof of use of the former name.
 - ACCEPTABLE DOCUMENTS, These documents can include:
 - Court order
 - Marriage certificate
 - Divorce certificate
 - Naturalization certificate
 - Passport
 - US Driver License
 - US State-Issued Identification Card
 - Bard College ID

The completed documents should be returned in person or by mail to the Registrar's office. Contact the Registrar's Office (registrar@bard.edu) with any questions that you may have.

By Mail:

To Change Your Name in New York State: You have to follow a specific procedure in a specific order. You must fill out forms and take these forms, in person, to the County Clerk's office where you live. Below you will find a list of Notary Services near campus where you can file the paperwork. Depending on where you go you may have to pay a fee. Scan the QR code or click on this link to find more detailed steps on how to go about starting this process.

The same options for US citizen students extends to both international and exchange students. Even if your correct name is not reflected in your legal paperwork, you still have the option to change your preferred name through the registrar's office. However, the laws and processes for legal name change and gender marker change must be done through your home country. If you have any more questions or need support in finding resources to navigate this process, please visit the International Student and Scholar Services Office located in Kappa 107, call the office at 845-758-7200, or email the office at oisss@bard.edu.

The National Center for Transgender Equality has a step-by-step guide explaining the process of legally changing one's gender marker in each state. Here is a list of resources specifically for residents of New York and NYC. If you are a student from a different state, please visit this page and select your state of residence to continue. Health Services

Bard Health Services offers episodic medical care to all Bard students. Bard's providers are trained specifically in working with the LGBTQ+ community and participate in continuing medical education on related topics. Bard Health Services is proud to offer gender-affirming care at our Student Health Clinic, including: visits to discuss initiating treatment, prescriptions for hormones and other adjunctive medications, injections and self-injection teaching, and monitoring labs as needed. All forms have been updated to reflect the diversity of sex, gender and sexual orientation present on the Bard campus. Bard Health Services respects chosen names and pronouns, which can be updated through the Student Portal. There are times legal names are required on written orders for lab tests, prescriptions, or referrals for insurance purposes; Bard Health Services does its best to warn students when this is necessary. To schedule an appointment for gender-affirming care or any other reason, please call 845-758-7433 or schedule an appointment online at <https://bard.medicatconnect.com>.

Counseling Services

The counseling staff understands that historically marginalized communities such as LGBTQ identifying folks, often experience higher levels of depression, anxiety, and suicidal ideation. Within our daily practice we work to create brave and life affirming spaces in order to promote healing and growth. Bard Counseling Services offer individual and group counseling and has three clinicians who specialize in working with the LGBTQ community: Laura MacDonald, PsyD; Larry Cercedes, PhD; and V Lawson, LMSW. Check the Counseling Services website for the most up-to-date open office hours, as well as groups that are currently being offered.

Athletics

Bard is committed to fairness and inclusion for all transgender student-athletes. While the College is required to follow all NCAA requirements for eligibility in competition (those guidelines can be found here), we also seek to provide any support needed for transgender students wishing to join teams and/or use Bard athletic facilities.

As mentioned, all students, staff, faculty and approved visitors to Stevenson Athletic Center are welcome to use the restroom and/or locker room consistent with their gender identity. A separate All Gender Locker Room (restroom and locker room) located along the lower-level hallway, is also available for individual use.

If you have questions regarding Bard or NCAA policy on transgender student-athlete participation, please speak to either of Bard's Athletic Directors: David Lindholm dlindholm@bard.edu or Stefanie Carrington scarrington@bard.edu

Bard Athletics and Recreation will not tolerate discrimination against transgender student-athletes by staff, student-athletes, families, fans, or anyone at Bard's athletic facilities.

Athletics Programming

Trans Swim

The Stevenson Athletics Center Pool is reserved exclusively for trans, nonbinary, and gender nonconforming people to use for two hours. No reservation is required. If desired, there is a gender neutral changing room and shower on the ground floor of the gym. This happens on the third Sunday of every month from 4-6pm.

Girls Go Lifting (@girlsgolifting)

Residence Life and Housing

Bard students are offered housing options which are designed to be inclusive of all needs, including those of transgender, gender-nonconforming, and nonbinary students. Specific housing requests are reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Gender Inclusive Housing

Bard's wide variety of on campus residential communities allow for students of any gender identity and/or sexual orientation the ability to live comfortably with other students of their choice or in a single occupancy room, if available. By default, students are housed according to their compatibility and gender identified on the form. Students can request otherwise in Section 5 of the housing form and can be housed regardless of gender identity. A first-year student may also indicate a requested roommate on their profile regardless of gender identity.

There is a drop-down menu for selecting a gender identity on the housing profile, allowing the student to self-identify and more ability to define who they are. Additionally, the student will be prompted to select or self-identify their pronouns.

All students returning to Bard after their first year participate in an annual room selection process and are able to select their roommate of choice. If a student and a group of friends want to form a suite, they can do so within the confines of the application process. There are four-person and five-person suites which offer single and double occupancy rooms within.

Residence Hall Restrooms

Many residence hall bathrooms are stand-alone and/or single use facilities making them gender neutral.

Multiple-use restrooms (those including stalls, sinks, and showers) are also gender inclusive. Bard is actively working on inventorying the signs posted outside of bathrooms to ensure that they are compatible as an industry standard.

Please contact Residence Life directly at reslife@bard.edu if you have questions about specific residence halls.

Clubs

Bard College has over 100 student clubs, groups, and organizations on campus; there is a place for everyone to connect with others. These include:

Trans+: Trans+ is an affinity group here at Bard created to make a safe space for students that identify as transgender, non-binary, or other gender-non-conforming identities. This student run club will focus on creating a community at Bard for trans students, as well as making Bard a safer place for trans students based on demonstrated needs.

QPOC (Queer People of Color): This club is a space created to center the lives and experiences of the queer and gender-nonconforming people of color both on Bard's campus and beyond. It's a place for conversation and action. It's a place that recognizes and affirms the lives of those whose lives are too often forgotten and erased. Though it was made intentionally to elevate the voices of QTPOC, allies and accomplices are welcome, but only with the understanding that your voices will not be centered and that you are there to learn and support.

Bard Planned Parenthood Generation Action (PPGEN):

PPGEN at Bard College fosters an engaging environment for student discussions on reproductive justice and sex education. We empower the community to actively participate in related initiatives, celebrating the legacy of Black women through practices of intersectionality, anti-racism, LGBTQ+ liberation, and abolition feminism.

The Scale Project: The Scale Project examines the role and impact that socioeconomic status and class has on Bard's campus, policies, and programs and creates sustainable solutions to make each more equitable. We will collect institutional data, meet with faculty and staff to propose new initiatives/solutions, relay all crucial information/resources to our peers via our Instagram and email, and continuously brainstorm ways to mediate classism on campus--via our Book Program, Being Not-Rich Google Doc, our Internship Equity Award, and the many other projects we work on simultaneously. This club will continue to collaborate with faculty, staff, administration, and students to work toward equity in the community.
